

Roxborough PTIC App

Privacy Policy

- The Roxborough Parent Teacher Involvement Committee (PTIC) is the sole owner of the Roxborough PTIC app. All information available on the app is provided by the PTIC.
- The data collected to access the app is name (First, Last), email address and password. This information is provided when a user signs up for the app. This information is not provided to any third parties. This information is never sold. All data that is being collected is entered by the user. All password information entered is encrypted and we do not have access to that information.
- The email address and name of users is collected to confirm they are affiliated with our organization. Those users that are subscribed to our app receive occasional push notifications with information about events or activities affiliated with our organization. Users will never receive third party push notifications.
- If a user wishes to request to see the data we have collected on them, we may provide that information to them. That request will need to be made in writing to roxptic@gmail.com. We also can delete their information from the app, per their request in writing. They will need to contact roxptic@gmail.com and notify us of their request. Their request will be honored within 5 working days.
- If the privacy policy is changed or updated, that information will be provided both on our website, www.roxptic.org and on our app.
- This Privacy Policy is effective January 16, 2022.
